Numb. 718. THE

So-Carolina GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtick.

From WEDNESDAY January 11th, to MONDAY January 18th, 1748.

An Extract of a Letter from the Hague, dated Sept. 22.

"SOME of the Lords of the Government expreſs great Satisfaction at the preſent Sentiments of the King of Pruſſia, who, they ſay, is inclined, and may, if he pleaſes, merit the Glory of ſtopping the Torrent of Blood which is unprofitably ſhed, by giving Peace to Europe, upon the ſame State they were in at the Death of the Emperor Charles VI. excepting the Province of Sileſia, which he is in no Diſpoſition of parting with, pretending it to be his juſt Right. By this Means he would obtain the Name of Frederick the Peace-maker; the moſt amiable Title to which a powerful Monarch can aſpire. There are ridiculous Reports ſpread in Relation to this Prince, and to the Courts of Saxony and Bavaria, that they are Penſioners to France; but who believes them? Perhaps thoſe that are publiſhed in reſpect to Affairs in the North, and eſpecially Sweden, have no better Foundation, though they carry the Face of Truth in them. The News received from Stockholm is terrible: There are, we are told, two Factions which are inceſſantly labouring to overturn each other, and who in the End will overturn the State. Thoſe who are called, or who take upon them the Name of the Hats, and who have the upper Hand, act but too apparently by the Inſpirations of France; they have carried Things to ſuch a Length, as to have formed a Deſign either of depoſing the King, who can never be ſincerely a Friend to France, nor enter readaly into her Views, or of giving him for a Collegue the P[illegible]ce Succeſſor, who is deſcribed as a Prince of no extraordinary Genius, who ſuffers himſelf to be entirely directed by his Conſort, who it's aſſured is not at all behind-hand in Politicks and other Sciences to the King of Pruſſia her Brother. What is here hinted at may poſſibly tend towards diſcovering the Cauſe of Dr. Blackwell's loſing his Head, and will probably occaſion the Death of many others; for Affairs are in a terrible Criſis, and are arrived at ſuch a Pitch, that in order to make the King perfectly eaſy, the ſecret Committee has obliged the Prince Succeſſor to declare to his Majeſty, that he would proclaim as Traitor the firſt and every Perſon who ſhould only mention the making him Co-Regent."

Thopen, Sept. 20. "On the 19th there arrived a French Drummer here, to invite, as 'tis ſaid, the Bourgomaſters and Aldermen of the City of Berg-op-Zoom to return thither, in order again to take upon them the Government of that City; but as none of them were here, no Anſwer could be given to this Meſſage. This Day we ſent a Drummer to Berg-op-Zoom, to demand that the Wounded of the Troops of the Gariſon which remained there might be tranſported to our Hoſpitals, in order to be cured. The French have yet undertaken nothing on this Side, and we flatter ourſelves, that they will be diſcouraged from attempting any Thing, by the Difficulties which they are like to meet with in the Execution of their Deſign; all the Country from Berg-op-Zoom hither being laid under Water, and ſeveral Batteries are raiſed upon the Degue, which is the only Avenue to this Place: Nevertheleſs, the greateſt Part of the Inhabitants are carrying off their beſt Effects, in order to ſecure them at all Events. Some Perſons have been arreſted, who were catched ſathoming the Depth of the Waters in theſe Parts.

Breda, Sept. 21. "The Army under General Baron Swartzenburgh is ſaid to be in full March for the Lines in the Neighbourhood of this Place; the Grand Army in the Neighbourhood of Maeſtricht is expected to join them; and we are aſſured, that his Royal Highneſs has given Notice of his Intentions in that reſpect to General Baron Cronſtrom. We learn from Steenbergen, that Count Lowendahl has actually ſummoned the Governor to ſurrender; whoſe Anſwer was, that he would defend the Place to the laſt Extremity, which as it is well defended by the Inundation, has alſo a ſufficient Gariſon well ſupplied with every Thing, and a Communication open with the Lines. Colonal Spark has gained immortal Honour by his Behaviour in the fatal Buſineſs of Bergen-op-Zoom; it was he who diſengaged General Cronſtom and the Prince of Heſſe Philipſdahl, who were ſurronded in their Quarters by the French, and at the Time of his paſſing the Bridge from the Gate of Steenbergen, the French kept a continual Fire on both Sides, notwithſtanding which, he brought off the Remains of his Regiment and their Colours; the Colonel had ſeveral Shot through his Cloaths, but had the good Fortune not to be wounded.

Antwerp, Sept. 25. "His Majeſty was no ſooner informed of the taking of Bergen-op-Zoom, than he declared Count Lowendahl a Marſhal of France, and Governor of that Place. His Majeſty has been alſo pleaſed to declare Marſhal Count Saxe Governor-General of the French Netherlands. It is ſaid that the whole Loſs of the Allies in the late Affair, falls very little ſhort of four thouſand Men; and that the Baggage of the Troops that were in the Lines, was for the moſt part taken. The Reduction of Lillo, and the other two Forts upon the Scheld, will be immediately undertaken; and four thouſand Bombs, of the largeſt Size, have been already brought hither from Bruſſels for that Purpoſe. Marſhal Noailles arrived here on Friday laſt, ſet out the next Day for Bergen-op-Zoom, and having conferred with Marſhal Lowendahl, returned hither this Morning. Our Biſhop has ordered a Collection to be made for four Days together, in all the Churches of this City, for the Relief of the poor Inhabitants of Bergen-op-Zoom, who have been ſtripped of every thing; but it is poſitively aſſerted, that no Body was killed in cold Blood."

Hague, Sept. 24. "The Earl of Sandwich is arriv'd here from the Army, it is ſaid his Lordſhip had two Conferences at Liege with the Maquis de Puyſieux, the Subject of which is not yet known. According to the laſt Accounts from Bergen-op-Zoom, Count Lowendahl ſent Guards to protect Major-General Lew, and the reſt of the Officers of the Gariſon that were ſick and wounded. Many of the Officers of the Gariſon that were made Priſoners, have had the Honour to dine at his Table. His moſt Serene Highneſs the Prince Stadtholder has publiſhed a Placard, forbiding all Kind of licentious and offenſive Diſcourſe, tending to excite Tumults and Confuſion, and threatning with all the Severity of the Law, ſuch as ſhall preſume for the future to diſturb in any Manner the publick Peace. The States of Utrecht have publiſhed a Placard likewiſe to the ſame Purpoſe.

LONDON, September 3.

They write from the Hague, that Mr. Chiquet who is charged with the French Affairs there, has made very loud Complaint at the Liberties taken with his Maſter and his Miniſters, in News-Papers and Pamphlets, lately printed in the Dominions of the States-General, and has even gone ſo far as to threaten, that if a Stop is not put to ſuch Practices, his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty will revoke all the Promiſes made to their High Mightineſſes in the Memorial by him delivered on the 13th of April laſt.

There is Advice, that the Vigilant Man of War, Captain Douglaſs, is arrived at Spithead, and has brought in a French Packet-Boat, bound from Nantz, to the Eaſt-Indies, with 19 Men on board.

LONDON, September 5.

Her Imperial Majeſty has communicated a Plan to the Court [illegible] de Canales, Envoy Extraordinary from the King of Sardinia at her Court, according to which she proposes to kep up constantly in Italy, as long as the War shall continue, an Army consisting of 80 Battalions and 70 Squadrons.
